The Eagle Got the Fish.

At this junction of the thoroughfare and Island lake on a dead pine more than 100 feet high sat a white headed eagle. In the air a large fishhawk was sailing over the water looking for his dinner 200 or 300 feet below him. What penetrating orbs of vision nature has endowed this bird with! There, he gives his lightninglike shot to the water, seems almost submerged, only to reappear with a four pound pike in his talons. Slowly he rises, going toward the woods, where he hopes to enjoy his well earned meal, but he has reckoned without his host. The king of birds has been watching his every movement and, if found successful, is in readiness to exact that tribute which the stronger always demands and compels from the weak.

Almost quick as thought the eagle is pursuing the hawk, and for a little while a merry chase it is. But the eagle is the master, and the hawk instinctively feels it, as after a sudden, violent swoop, only just to evade the terrible claws of the now enraged eagle, he drops the prize and slowly flies to the other end of the lake. There is no need for haste now, as the master waits after tribute, not the hawk. Payment having been made by relinquishing valuable property, the eagle once more displays his wonderful activity by catching the pike before it strikes the water and then as leisurely to cover to gormandize.—Forest and Stream.

Straw Horseshoes.

Straw is put to strange uses in Japan. Most of the horses are shod with straw. Even the clumsiest of cart horses wear straw shoes. In their case the shoes are tied around the ankles with straw rope and are made of the ordinary rice straw, braided so that they form a sole for the foot about half an inch thick. These soles cost about a half penny per pair, and when they are worn out they are thrown away. Every cart has a stock of fresh new shoes tied to the horse or to the front of the cart, and in Japan it was formerly the custom to measure distance largely by the number of horse-shoes it took to cover the distance. So many horse-shoes made a day's journey, and the average shoe lasted for about eight miles of travel.

The Lobster.

A scientist has entered a protest against the use of the term "lobster" as an epithet implying lack of skill or courage. He says that lobsters on the Nova Scotian coast draw up in battle array and fight for hours according to thoroughbred rules, the coast being littered with claws and other evidences of dismemberment when the struggle is over.

A Heroine.

In a cemetery on the banks of the St. Lawrence river, near Prescott, is an epitaph saying that the stone was "erected to the memory of Elizabeth Richardson, who heroically defended the life of her lover by sticking a pitchfork in a mad cow's nose." The heroic Miss Richardson was 38 years old when she died.

If a man has a good scheme and makes money out of it, people call him a genius; if he loses, they call him a fool.—Chicago News.

The Queen.

"My wife," he said proudly, "has been known as the queen of hearts." "No doubt," they answered. "It was because she took the knife."—Chicago Post.

THE DUTY OF A CITIZEN.

Will the people of the State continue the old regime which has blighted the good name and business enterprise in the State, or will they act for the material development of the richest State in the Union in natural wealth, where their homes, their business and all there is worth living for is situated. The chief duty there is upon the citizen connected with the commonwealth is to secure good government which imparts confidence to those who are seeking opportunities to invest capital. Good government also secures to those who have invested capital the protection of equal laws. Through good government opportunity is given each individual to procure, through business enterprise, equal advantages to better his condition.

When business confidence is procured through equal opportunity there is a stimulus given to industry that it does not receive through any other source. Before equal advantages can come there must precede them the enactment of laws that will secure justice to the humblest citizen before the law and through the law. The rich should be required to sustain equally with the poor the burdens of government. The earnings of the man who earns his bread by daily labor should not be required to take upon it, through a greater valuation than is placed upon the property of the rich, more of the burdens of government than the property of the rich is required to support.

It is well known to the people that the property of the rich, more particularly the very rich, is not required to sustain its share of the expenses of the State because of under valuation when compared with the property of the citizen who has a home and his strong arm only to support life, which is not only an injustice, but is a chief means to cause discontent that precedes trouble and disorder in the State. The contention, more especially of the very rich, is to avoid the burdens of government by providing ways to secure more favorable valuations upon their property than is or can be secured by the average citizen, which is a truth so plain to all the people that it has only to be stated to direct attention to the fact.

Opportunity to procure under valuation by the rich is provided through diligence and by procuring the services in their interest of those who will aid the purpose sought by them to be accomplished. Those whose aid is sought and secured to bring upon the great body of the people a system of injustice do not possess the qualities that make citizens such as are required for good government in any commonwealth.

The contention to secure an advantage over the industrious man whose time is engaged in providing the means to live is not at public meetings or before the public in any form. The contention is clothed in deceit and its clothing is provided more often after than it is before the hour of midnight when labor is at rest restoring the body to vigor to meet to-morrow's toil. The work is surrounded by darkness, as it could not live in the light for the sufficient cause that it would find an enemy in every good citizen.

One of the chief ways among the many ways there are provided by those who engage in securing an advantage to procure injustice in government is opposition to men who favor just methods for the people and for that cause favor good government. When ever a man is before the people for public position, who is not subject to the will of the men engaged in securing injustice for the body of the people there is opposition of a marked character from sources that nothing good in government for the people has been known to come and his defeat is secured if it is possible to accomplish it by any means known to the bosses or by any means known to those who obey them.

In these facts may be ascertained the opposition there is to the re-election of Hon. Francis G. Newlands by C. O. Wallace and by those over whom he has a controlling and directing influence. If anything has come to the people through just legislation and good government that Charley Wallace has succeeded in directing, it is so distant from them that it will require an average life of many generations before it will reach them which is in direct opposition to the methods of Mr. Newlands who favors good government now.

The methods of the men are irreconcilable which will explain the cause there is for opposition by C. O. Wallace and those whom he directs to Mr. Newlands and all he does. The contention must end in Mr. Wallace controlling the State or in the emancipation of the people and their continued prosperity. The way Charles controls the State is through the men he succeeds in placing in office and he has for that reason no use for a man he can not direct. Wallace and those who wait to hear the words that fall from his lips are devising methods to defeat the man whose ways they fear and whose ways they have cause to avoid.

The ways of Mr. Newlands are the ways of the living present, while the ways of Wallace are the ways of the dead past and an enslaved future to the people through the means of injustice secured through those whom he will succeed in returning to the legislature by deceiving the people. There will not be anything that Wallace controls which will remain neutral in his contention to defeat the return of Mr. Newlands to Congress. The prize to be secured by him is his continued control in the State, which he will have to secure by defeating Mr. Newlands, or his actual participation in politics in the relation of political boss will close in Nevada.

HAPPENINGS IN NEVADA

News of All the Counties in the State Clipped From Exchanges.

A ninety-four pound squash is being exhibited as a product of Lyon county.

The equipment of the Southern Pacific is to be strengthened immediately by the addition of 2,000 new box cars and 44 engines.

The storm seems general throughout the State, as the exchanges all report rain or snow. It's a good thing for the farmers, who will put in winter grain.

The engine of the north-bound train en route from Keeler to Hawthorne was wrecked at Queen station Tuesday afternoon. The driving rods were broken and the engine turned over on its side. Nobody hurt.—Hawthorne Bulletin.

George Fryer, formerly of Carson, who is employed in the foundry of the Southern Pacific shops at Sacramento, while at work upon a hot casting was struck by hot splinters, and it is feared by the doctors that he will lose the sight of one eye.

Barnett Colwell returned from the robber hunt last night. He says that his posse was in a snow storm for two nights and days, and that is why he lost the trail. He will leave on the train for Idaho tonight to resume the hunt.—Winnemucca News.

Captain Racket.

Parts have been assigned for the play that will be given in the gymnasium on the evening of the 19th by the University dramatic club.

The title role, Captain Racket, will be taken by H. H. Dexter; Timothy Tolman, James Giles; Obadiah Dawson, W. W. Hunter; Hobson, C. E. Southworth; Mrs. Tolman, Tillie Kruger; Clarissa Racket, Maud Nash; Katie, Miss McGowan; Timothy Jr., himself. This play is a jolly three-act farce comedy.

Inter-Class Game This Afternoon.

The football season will open this afternoon. An inter-class game will take place on the University gridiron. Eleven valiant young freshmen will line up against an equal number of sturdy sophomores, and may his Saevic majesty run away with the hindmost and the laurel wreath bedeck the brow of the victors.

Here is the line-up and the cast of characters:

FRESHMEN.	SOPHOMORES.
Riordan, Right half.	Leadbetter, Right end.
Wright, Right end.	O'Hara, Henderson, Right tackle.
McVicar, Leavitt, Right guard.	Walt, Edie, Center.
Hesson, G. Ward, Left guard.	McElroy, G. Lyman, Left tackle.
E. Lyman, Mieder, Left end.	Barker, P. Smith, Left half.
J. Peckham, Roberts, Quarterback.	Luke, Graham, Fullback.
St. war, Substitutes: Freshmen—Nathan, Olark, Julien and Catton; Sophomores—Harrington, Bradshaw, Kelly and Erickson.

R. ferer, James Hopper, U. of C., umpire, Bert Frazer, '99.

Game will be called at 2 o'clock today. Admission free.

What A Tale It Tells.

If that mirror of yours shows a wretched, sallow complexion, a jaundiced look, moth patches and blotches on the skin, it's liver trouble; but Dr. King's New Life Pills regulate the liver, purify the blood, give clear skin, rosy cheeks, rich complexion. Only 25 cts. at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

Astounded The Editor.

Editor S. A. Brown, of the Bennettville, S. C., was once immensely surprised. "Through long suffering from Dyspepsia," he writes, "my wife was greatly run down. She had no strength or vigor and suffered great distress from her stomach, but she tried Electric Bitters which helped her at once, and, after using four bottles, she is entirely well, can eat anything. It's a great tonic, and its gentle laxative qualities are splendid for torpid liver." For indigestion, loss of Appetite, Stomach and Liver troubles it's a positive, guaranteed cure. Only 50 cents at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

Pianos! Pianos!

W. P. Stewart, the reliable piano and organ tuner and repairer, representing Sherman, Clay & Co., is here, receiving orders at Herz Bros'. New Steinways, Eateys and other pianos on easy terms and low prices. See him at once for fine work and genuine bargains.

Ladies, Take Notice.

I will be in Reno Oct. 10, 11 and 12 with my full line of samples in jackets, capes, fur, dress skirt, silk waists, etc. Tailor made suits for $10 up. Rooms at 112 First St.

Local Agent for Charles A. Stevens & Bros., Chicago.

Buying a Fan in Spain.

This is how a Spanish senorita bargains for her fan, according to Miss Katharine Lee Bates, who spent some time in Spain studying the people and customs of that sunny clime:

There is nothing sordid about it. Her haggling is a social condescension that at once puts the black eyed young salesman at her mercy.

"But the fan seems to me the least bit dear, señor!"

He shrugs his shoulders and flings out his arm in protest.

"Ah, senorita! You do not see how beautiful the work is. I am giving it away at 6 pesetas."

She lifts her eyebrows half incredulously, all bewitchingly.

"At 5 pesetas, señor!"

He runs his hand through his black hair in chivalrous distress.

"But the peerless work, senorita! And this other too. I sacrifice it at 4 pesetas."

She touches both fans lightly.

"You will let us have the two at 7 pesetas, señor?"

Her eyes dance over his confusion. He catches the gleam, laughs back, throws up his hands.

"Bueno, senorita! At what you please!"

And the senorita trips away contented with a sharp bargain, although—for Spanish gallantry, even when genuine, goes further on the lips than otherwise—the price was probably not much more remote from what pleased the smooth tongued clerk than from what she pleased.—Youth's Companion.

Crowing Matches.

The Belgian artisan spends his leisure in a very curious manner. He keeps a special cock for crowing, and the bird which can outcrow its fellows has reached the highest pinnacle of perfection. The mode of operation is to place the cages containing the roosters in long rows, for it appears that one bird sets the other off crowing. A marker appointed by the organizers of the show is told off for each bird, his duty being to note carefully the number of crows for which it is responsible in the same fashion as the laps are recorded in a bicycle race. The customary duration of the match is one hour, the winner being the bird which scores the highest number of crows in the allotted time. A great number of these competitions have taken place in the Liege district, and in some cases heavy bets have been made on the result.

Reno Will Be the Scene of Action.

Arrangements have been perfected for making Reno the starting point for "mountain power" on the Central Pacific. This will necessitate the building of a big round house and, at least, repair shops in this city.

This is only the starting of the movement to center all operations of the road between Sacramento and Ogden in this city. After that we may confidently hope for terminal point rates from the east and the Pacific coast.

FOUR MORE ANNOUNCE

Candidates Give Evidence That the Political Pot Is Boiling.

The candidates were a little slow in getting acquainted with the voters. Some of them thought they had a walkover and others didn't think they had a chance to win, hence they anticipated a cheap campaign.

Lately it has begun to look like a good hard tussle for many of the offices and the candidates are realizing the truth of the old proverb "nothing without labor."

Several new cards appear in this issue of the JOURNAL.

C. A. Richardson, the Silver-Democratic candidate for Justice of the Peace of Reno township, is an estimable citizen of this town, where he has had a long residence. He is well fitted for the office to which he aspires, having previously "worn the ermine."

Hon. T. V. Julien announces himself as a candidate for the office of District Attorney. His name will appear upon the ticket by petition. Mr. Julien is one of the able members of the Washoe county bar, and a gentleman whose character is above reproach. He creditably filled on a former occasion the position for which he is a candidate.

Ben Shearer wants your vote. He needs it in his business. Mr. Shearer is the regular nominee of the Silver-Democratic party for Auditor and Recorder. He is the present incumbent of this office, and his record is his best argument. Ben is careful, accurate and accommodating. He runs his shop on business principles, and is the man for the place.

J. J. Linn has held down the padded chair in the justice court for half a dozen years, and in that time has dealt out law and justice in an honest, conscientious, equitable manner. He has tied up many a pair of yearning hearts and spent many a piece of money to give a condemned man a good feed before sending him up. Judge Linn is running on a ticket of his own for re-election.

A. Revert of Verdi is one of the regular fusion nominees for Assemblyman. He is young, energetic, honest and capable, gifted with rare judgment and oratorical powers. "The book-worm of Dog Valley," as his friends term him, will represent this county wisely and well in the council of State solons. Don't overlook his name.

GARBED LIKE SPECTERS

Sheet and Pillow Case Party at the Gymnasium Last Night.

A pleasant social was given last evening in the gymnasium by the Delta Rho Society. The Theta Epsilon Fraternity were given the honors. A number of other guests, eighty couple in all, were present.

A feature of the evening was the costuming. All present were dressed, literally, like "sheeted ghosts," in addition to which they wore white masks, pillow cases and other unusual things.

After the sixth dance they unmasked and removed their superfluous white garments and looked like other young people have the habit of appearing in ball rooms.

The unmasking created a great deal of merriment, as each had been unaware of his or her partner's identity.

Refreshments, consisting of cake and sherbet, were served on the balcony.

Brown's in Town.

The cast of "Brown's in Town," this season is said to surpass that of last year. Deloher & Hennessy are probably the only theatrical managers in country who are alive to the fact that a company requires strengthening as the play grows old. It is generally the custom to weaken a cast each successive season. The reason why so many shows are stranded through public disapproval is readily apparent.

This extraordinarily funny farce-comedy will be here on the evening of the 13th and will doubtless pack the opera house as it did last season.

Where to Find Out.

You are no longer compelled to "ask a policeman." The Western Union Telegraph Company has provided a bureau of information in this city. Their office is papered with timetables and maps. On the counter are directories and what-nots. If you don't know what you want to know, you know, ask Operator Wilson, you know. He'll know what you want to know.

A Business Change.

O. Hartung has sold the Palace bakery to E. L. Bacon. Mr. Bacon came from Sacramento, where he was successfully engaged in business for a number of years. Mr. Hartung will continue to make Reno his place of abode.

Meeting Called.

There will be a meeting of the Reno Red Cross Society, Tuesday, October 9th, at 2:30 P. M. in the Congregational church for the election of officers for the ensuing year. By order of the President. GRACE V. WARD, Secretary.

To the Public of Reno.

I have opened a new and complete line of samples of suitings in both ladies and gentlemen's materials, and am prepared to execute all orders entrusted to me to our mutual satisfaction. I guarantee a perfect fit and will do my work in a manner not to be duplicated in Reno or elsewhere. I would be pleased to see all my old friends, and also new ones. Come and inspect my goods. It will cost you nothing. Remember the place, room 2, Smith building. Your obedient servant, W. SCHER, Artist Tailor.

The "N" Crowd "Skunked."

A dozen big men wearing blue sweaters branded with a white "N" got it put gloriously over them yesterday afternoon in a practice game with the second football eleven at the University. The small fry scored a touchdown, whitewashing the first eleven.

I. X. L. CLUB'S
GRAND BALL

First Dance of the Season Given in the Pavilion Last Evening.

If it were permissible to use that expressive but shop-worn quotation from the "Battle of Waterloo," we would preface our description of the I. X. L. ball with the quotation, "There was the sound of revelry, etc." but the obstinate bell forbids.

One hundred and twenty couple—the pick of the town—attended the dance in the pavilion last night. And what a jolly time the "brave young men and maidens fair" did have. There were no wall flowers nor "lookers-on in Rome," but everybody stepped to the time of the music. It was good music, too; the best that Ferguson & Hoskins' five piece orchestra could provide and that is saying a good deal. The music was perfect and so was the floor.

The only people who did not enjoy themselves were the boys of the I. X. L. club. They flew around and worried and prepired in order to make everybody else happy.

Yes, it was an evening to be remembered. Perhaps we can persuade the club to repeat the social half a dozen times this winter.
